County planning group reviews zoning limbo

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Hancock County Planning Commission members seem to agree there is little more they can do toward adoption of countywide zoning.

Several months ago the commission recommended the Board of Supervisors adopt a countywide zoning ordinance.

But on Thursday commission members discussed an Aug. 6 meeting with the supervisors at which the supervisors indicated they do not intend to act on the recommendation.

At Thursday's meeting John A. Scafide Jr., commission attorney, clarified a question that arose at a prior meeting about a possible referendum election.

A referendum would be required, he said, only if the supervisors adopted a zoning ordinance and ten percent of the electors filed an objection.

"We couldn't adopt an ordinance and give it to the supervisors?" Commissioner Wayne Ducomb asked.

"They would have to adopt it," Scafide replied, "and they will not adopt it, based on what they told us at the Aug. 6 meeting."

According to the commissioners, the supervisors had discussed the possibility of zoning for specific beats during their joint meeting.

But Scafide said that would require special enabling legislation from the State Legislature, and the commis-

Drug trial delayed for third time

New evidence received by defense attorneys has postponed the trial of four people arrested in connection with a March drug bust.

Two Hancock Countians, Virginia Guilbeau and her son Gregory Ladner of Kiln; and two Cuban nationals, Ivan

Martinez-Junco of Las Vegas, Nev., and Raul Rojas-Lazardo of Miami, Fla., are charged with possession and intent to distribute over two and a half tons of marijuana.

The marijuana and other items were confiscated at Mrs. Guilbeau's residence during the March 24 raid conducted by Drug Enforcement Agency officers and the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

The four were originally scheduled for trial during July, but Circuit Judge Kosta Vlahos changed the date to Aug. 23 and then to Sept. 10 at the request of the defense attorneys.

Because new evidence was received Wednesday, Vlahos has agreed to postpone the trial to Oct. 29 to allow the defense time to study the new information.

Tax collectors' office entered on Friday night

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County tax collector's office in the courthouse was broken into sometime between 5 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. Saturday, according to Alvin Ladner, Hancock County sheriff's investigator.

Ladner said, "The break-in was discovered by Edward Murtagh, Hancock County assessor-tax collector, on Saturday when he was distributing mail to the deputy collectors desks and found a money box on one of the desks."

Late Saturday, Ladner and Bay Police Investigator Joe Pica were continuing the investigation into the break-in.

"An inventory has to be made to determine exactly what is missing. It appears a small amount of cash was taken, as someone had removed the cash boxes from the safe," Ladner stated.

Investigators have not determined exactly how entry into the office was made.

Murtagh reported a bank deposit had been made at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, adding that most of the transactions in the collector's office are made with checks.

The investigators were assisted by Harold Heine, Hancock County deputy sheriff.

Trusty walks out of jail

A trusty who escaped from the Hancock County Jail Thursday evening has not yet been found, according to Sheriff's Department Investigator Alvin Ladner.

Calvin R. Pritchett, 25, of Toccoa, Ga., apparently walked away from the jail after the evening meal Thursday.

Pritchett had been charged with stealing a truck and was awaiting a court hearing.

management, laboratory and administrative support complex was designed by the architectural firm of Barlow and Plunkett of Jackson, Miss., and built by Tilley Constructors and Engineers, Inc., of Gulfport. The building cost $6.5 million with groundbreaking held in 1982. NORDA has been at NSTL for eight years, housed primarily in trailers. The new facility is the first building to carry the NORDA name in Hancock County. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Shoreline Park asks for wastewater help

By DENA BISNETTE

Representatives of the Shoreline Park Civic Association have asked the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District to help the subdivision solve sewage problems.

According to District Director Ethel Schott, the association wants the use of septic tanks made mandatory in Shoreline Park to alleviate a problem with raw sewage in open ditches.

Mrs. Schott said Wednesday that district officials believe the problem is not under the jurisdiction of the wastewater district.

She told association representatives Malcolm Tullier and Clayton Lewis that the problem is a county responsibility and should be referred to the board of supervisors.

There is a possibility that the supervisors could decide to turn the problem over to the wastewater district, but the county would still have to pay for inspections, enforcement and other fees involved, Schott feels.

In other business, the district welcomed new board member Walter

J. Gex III, who attended his first wastewater meeting Wednesday. Gex was appointed to the district Tuesday by the board of supervisors.

He replaces former member A.A. "Dolph" Kellar, who resigned about eight weeks ago because supervisors are no longer allowed to serve on boards and commissions which may create a conflict of interest with their county government duties.

The wastewater board also approved a bid on sludge disposal from Disposal Systems Inc. of Biloxi, which will charge $175 per 5,000 gallon truckload to pick up sludge from the Waveland Wastewater Treatment Plant for transport to an approved dumping site.

Also approved was a request from Honey Bee, a recreational vehicle park under construction in Lakeshore, which asked that the Waveland Wastewater Treatment Plant agree to accept wastewater from the park's holding tank for treatment.

The next wastewater meeting will be 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Waveland Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Election to include 15 local candidates

By DENA BISNETTE

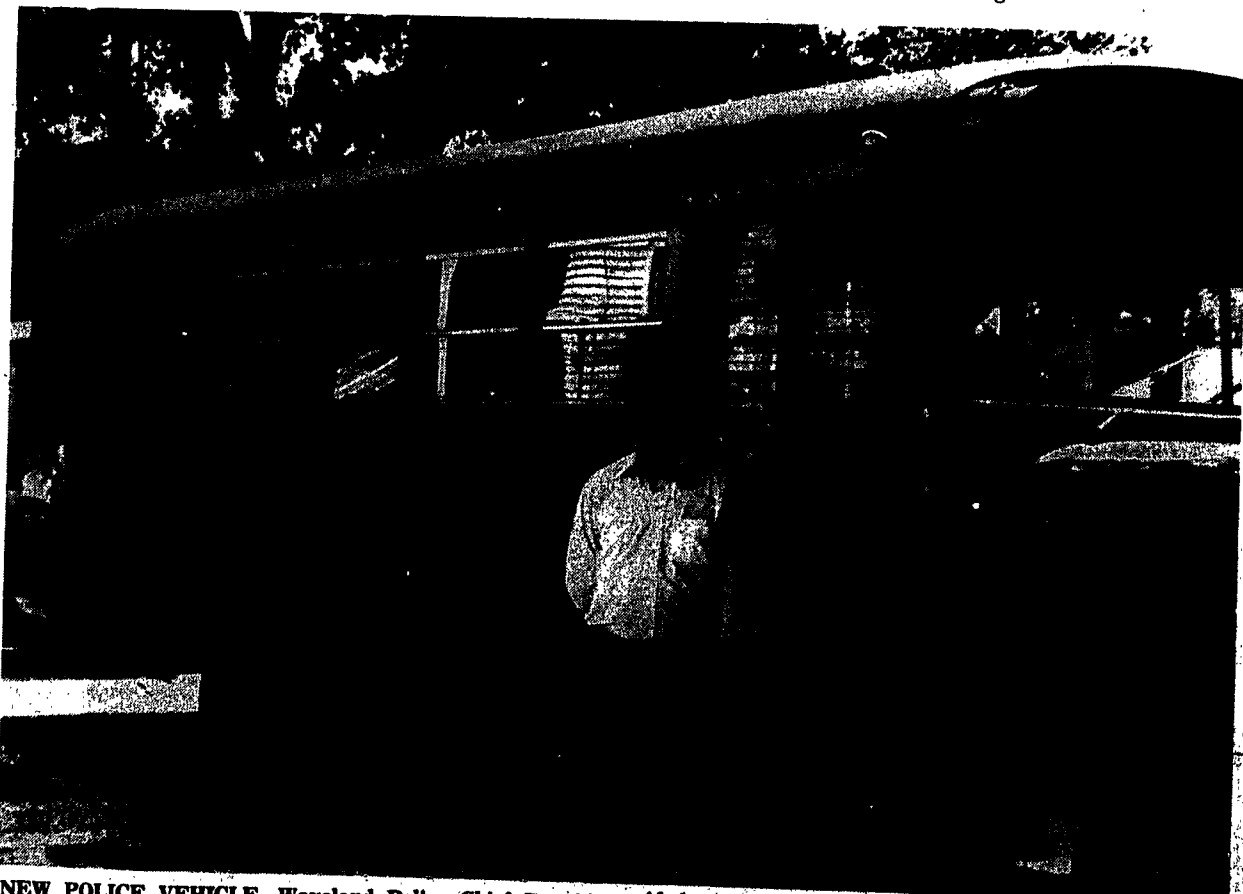

Fifteen candidates have qualified for the local elections included on the Nov. 6 ballot, according to District Five Election Commissioner Charles Gottschalk.

Four of the candidates qualified for the Beat Five seat on the Hancock County Board of Education. They include Lennette M. Necaise, Larry Koenenn, Johnny Banks and Marion Nell Breland Koenenn.

Those candidates will be certified by the Hancock County Election Commission when it meets at 5 p.m. Monday.

Candidates for election commissioner include Jacob V. Ladner and James A. "Jimmie" Ladner, both Democrats, in Beat One; Francis L. Lee, Democrat, Beat Two; and Betsy Nolan, Independent, Conrad Joseph Sauter, Democrat, and John V. Ladner, Republican, in Beat Three.

NEW POLICE VEHICLE—Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn stands beside a bus donated recently to the Waveland Police Department by Bourgeois Stiefel-Ray American Legion Post 77 of Waveland. The vehicle will be used for such purposes as communications, on-site crime investigations and rescue missions. Dorn said the vehicle has been painted outside but still needs some refurbishing inside. It is being equipped by the police department with a radio, power generator, floodlights, extension cords and a work table. Dorn expects the vehicle to be fully operational by the end of October. (Photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Army receives 90-day permit for emergency waste storage

The State Bureau of Pollution Control has issued an emergency 90-day permit to the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant for the storage of explosive hazardous wastes.

The waste contains filtered solids contaminated with a high-level explosive and hydraulic oil. About 7,500 pounds of the substance is being stored in about 30 drums.

The drums are stored in soil-covered structures known as igloos on the grounds of the Hancock County plant.

Because they contain explosives, the wastes can not be legally buried in commercial landfills.

However, they can not be destroyed at present because the Bureau of Pollution Control has refused to approve the use of a special incineration at the plant.

Bureau officials say the construction of the incinerator, the first of its kind in the state, deviated from the original design.

A spokesman for Mason-Chamberlain Inc., which operates the plant under a U.S. Army contract, said the state wants stricter controls on the incinerator than those in the original design, which was submitted to the bureau as well as the Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

The incinerator has been redesigned and the plans will have to be resubmitted for a reviewing process, the spokesman said. That process could take three to five months, which would prevent the incinerator from becoming operational for about a year.

The state Pollution Control Permit Board is expected to consider extending the 90-day permit to one year to allow storage of the wastes until the incinerator is operational.

Two Bay residents file negligence lawsuits in U.S. District Court

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

Two Bay St. Louis residents have filed negligence suits in U.S. District Court in Biloxi as a result of separate incidents occurring in Hancock County in 1982.

On Sept. 4 Teddy E. Pruitt filed a $500,000 suit against Dolphin-Titan Drilling Co. of Houston, Tex. for injuries he received on one of the firm's drilling rigs on Dec. 26, 1982.

According to the complaint, Pruitt sustained permanent injuries to his knee and leg and has suffered loss of wages, pain, suffering and mental anguish.

The complaint alleges the company was negligent in design and construction of the rig.

It also alleges the company:

—Failed to man the rig with a competent crew.

—Failed to provide Pruitt with a reasonably safe place to work.

—Failed to exercise reasonable care for the safety of employees.

—Failed to provide adequate tools and equipment.

—Failed to supply Pruitt with a sufficient number of co-employees and supervisory personnel.

Pruitt is being represented by Donald C. Dornan Jr., Biloxi attorney.

The other lawsuit was filed Aug. 31 by Carmel Bufkin, who is seeking a $400,000 judgment against Charles Lambert Gravel Co. of Louisiana.

According to her complaint, Bufkin was deprived of the care, protection, aid and society of her husband Johnny L. Bufkin when he was injured in a bulldozer accident in July, 1982.

The accident occurred at Bay Cove Marina when Charles Lambert Gravel Co. asked Crown Equipment of Bay St. Louis to do some repair work on a bulldozer.

The complaint alleges that Bufkin, then an employee of Crown Equipment, was attempting to perform welding work when an employee of the gravel company allowed the machine's blade to drop onto Bufkin's back.

Bufkin, who is still under a physician's care, has also filed a lawsuit in excess of $700,000 against the company.

Mrs. Bufkin's suit is being handled by Dean Holleman, Gulfport attorney.

FARMWEEK SERIES

A new type of agricultural futures contract known as an "option" will be available to farmers beginning Oct. 1. A four-part series examining options trading will be telecast on the weekly television series "Farmweek" beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 10, on Mississippi ETV.

The premiere program will explain the mechanics of options trading with an emphasis on information of interest to commodity and livestock producers. In options trading, unlike in current futures contracts, farmers are able to guarantee their crop prices. Once they have purchased an option, they have no future monetary obligations.

The second program, at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 17, will explain how "call options" trading will be conducted, emphasizing basic marketing strategies for community and livestock producers.

At 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 24, the "Farmweek" team will focus on "put options" for the third program in the series, and the final program will draw together and restate some of the basic ideas presented in the series and re-emphasize basic options trading strategies. It will be telecast at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 1.

Delisle property owner files $1 million lawsuit against power company

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
J. Ashton Greene of Pass Christian reported Friday that he has filed a lawsuit in Harrison County Circuit Court against Mississippi Power Co. and Riley Brothers Inc. asking for a judgment in excess of $1 million.
The lawsuit, he said, grew out of damages to his property in Delisle which occurred during the clearing of rights-of-way for the utility company's power lines.
Riley Brothers Inc., the utility's contractors, has its home office in Ellisville, according to Greene.

The suit alleges that during the cutting of rights-of-way last November, cutting was done beyond the right-of-way lines.
Greene said he is asking for $15,220 in accordance with statutory provisions for damage to trees, and $45,000 for the companies' negligent and unlawful acts.
In addition, because of alleged 'willful, wanton, malicious and grossly negligent acts' by the defendants with disregard for plaintiff's rights, Greene is asking for $1 million in punitive damages, he said.

Greene said his attorney in the lawsuit is Harry P. Hewes of Gulfport.

Q&A

Q. I'm thinking of sending my preschooler (he's three) to a child care center. Will it prepare him for elementary school?

A. It most likely will. Government studies show children with preschool experience adjust better and are more motivated when they make the transition to the primary grades. According to one expert at Kinder-Care, the world's largest proprietary provider of child care services with over 800 centers in the U.S. and Canada, a good environment for young children should provide a caring, concerned and trained staff with a balanced, well-planned learning program in a safe and healthy facility.

Planning officials to move building permit operation

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
The Hancock County Planning Commission agreed Thursday to move its building permit operation from the courthouse to the offices of Ron Murray Consultants, at Shieldsboro Square in Bay St. Louis.

The action was taken after Commission Attorney John A. Scaffide Jr. read a letter of resignation from Yvonne Ladner, an assessor/tax collector employee at the courthouse who has also been handling the permits for the commission.

The commission has been paying Ladner $200 per month to process the permits.

After Building Inspector Donn Murray said his son had volunteered office space and that the secretary at the consultant office could handle the permit work, the commissioners voted to make the change and to pay Ron Murray Consultants $200 per month as rental for office space.

ETV Brief

JAZZ HOUR
"The Arranger Session with Billy Taylor," an hour of jazz with the renowned pianist, composer and educator, will be telecast statewide at 9 p.m., Monday, Sept. 10, on Mississippi ETV.

"Jazz is a very singular thing," says Taylor. "The way I play it or write it comes from within and is based on the way I feel. I get together with my trio, and the sound we make has more impact, more improvisational qualities. We play off each other's moods, we interact. Then we put an orchestra behind us, and the music becomes the purpose for our being on stage."

Performing with Taylor and his trio is the Arrangers' Holiday Orchestra, an international group of professional musicians and graduate students of music who attended the three-week course in jazz arrangement at Rochester's Eastman School of Music.

The Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service operations in Hancock County have moved after 32 years in one location.

A visit to any of the agencies always meant a trip to the old milk bottling plant on Nechase Avenue. With the move, we now have to program ourselves to the former County Home building behind Hancock General Hospital.

Those making the recent move include County Agent Lee Taylor, Home Economist Darlene Underwood, Forester David Watts, and Hancock County's new 4-H Agent Gwen Elmore.

We would like to welcome Elmore to Hancock County and wish her well in working with our county youth.

John Mason, owner of Mason's Exxon, now has tickets available for Father Flanagan's Boys Town Choir performance scheduled on Nov. 20 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum.

The performance is sponsored by Coast Episcopal School's Parent-Teacher Organization.

As many of you know, Mason was a member of the Boys Town Choir for five years and made many tours with the group in all but the southern states of this country.

Mason tells us this is the first time the Boys Town Choir will be doing a Deep South tour.

We know Nov. 20 is a bit off, but now is the time to purchase tickets.

This week's announcement by Congressman Trent Lott that he was advised by U.S. Department of Commerce officials that Smith and Smith Aircraft Co. has made a commitment to locate at Stennis International's Industrial Park is good news.

This along with the $697,500 grant for the industrial park at Stennis being awarded to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors makes things look promising for our county's growth.

It is our understanding that Smith and Smith Aircraft Co. is located in New Orleans and modifies T-28 airplanes and should provide some 123 jobs.

Hancock County is on the move, and we hope it continues in all directions.

In classrooms across the state this fall students will have an opportunity to see free enterprise at work in Mississippi.

Free enterprise will be brought into the classroom through a new seven-part video-tape series completed recently by the American Enterprise Center, the economic education arm of the Mississippi Economic Council.

More than a year's work was involved in the development of the series, which illustrates free enterprise principles being followed in six Mississippi businesses.

Through the series students will see how profits are used in a business and why profits are important.

They will be introduced to the advantages of competition, they will begin to understand why productivity is important and they will learn the role government plays in the nation's economic system.

Six Mississippi businesses have contributed to the production of the series—Coca-Cola Bottlers of Mississippi; First Mississippi Corporation, headquartered in Jackson; Ivey's Construction Company of Kosciusko; Lewis Grocer Company of Indianola; Redd Pest Control Company, headquartered in Jackson; and Specialty Roll Products Company of Meridian.

A seventh tape is an overview, in-roducing the series and explaining the economic principles which will be emphasized in the series.

Use of the tape series will be a focal point of the work of the American Enterprise Center as the Center continues its delivery of free enterprise education to Mississippi's elementary, secondary, and college and university students.

As the American Enterprise Center begins its sixth school year of work, it is important to note that this education effort is supported by hundreds of business, industrial and professional leaders in Mississippi, all committed to the task of passing on to every generation of Mississippians the values of our free enterprise system.

URINARY TRACT INFECTIONS

What's a bladder infection? How is it treated?

It's one of three types of urinary tract infections. Most of the time, infection is limited to the bladder—a condition called cystitis. But infection can involve the kidneys themselves—a disease called pyelonephritis. A third common infection involves just the tube leading out of the bladder—this is called urethritis.

Cystitis occurs more often in women, but can occur in men too. The tube between the bladder and the outside of the body—called the urethra—is very short in women, compared to men. So in women, it's easier for germs to spread from outside the body, up the urethra and into the bladder and cause an infection. Everyday practices like tub baths or intercourse, or conditions such as pregnancy, poor hygiene or a vaginal infection may make a woman susceptible to cystitis.

Cystitis in men is often secondary to prostate infection or prostate enlargement, conditions common in middle-aged or older men.

Symptoms of cystitis include:

1. a stinging, burning, urgent sensation on urination;
2. increased frequency of urination and a feeling of needing to urinate but having little urine to pass;
3. tenderness in the area of the bladder;
4. occasionally, a fever—but this is uncommon in a simple bladder infection;
5. an associated vaginal discharge.

If you develop these symptoms, see your doctor. Do not take antibiotics without consulting your doctor. This partial treatment may make it difficult or impossible for your physician to make a diagnosis and lead to a more serious infection.

Cystitis isn't a dangerous condition if treated promptly. It causes a good deal of discomfort and can, if neglected, lead to a kidney infection and even "blood poisoning." But when treated as directed by your doctor, cystitis rarely progresses beyond being a nuisance.

If a woman has several infections, or a younger man with no prostate problems has even one, the doctor may recommend x-rays or other tests of the urinary tract to be sure there are no underlying abnormalities in the kidneys, bladder or urethra causing the infections.

Pyelonephritis, or kidney infection, is less common. People often say, "I had a kidney infection," when actually they had a bladder infection. It's usually more serious than cystitis—the patient feels sicker, has fever, chills, pain in the side or upper back.

It often requires longer antibiotic treatment and may require hospitalization and intravenous antibiotics. Most doctors will want to x-ray your kidneys after an episode of pyelonephritis to check for abnormalities. Your doctor may need to check your urine from time to time to be sure there are no recurrent infections or kidney damage.

Urethritis is an infection or irritation of the tube that goes from the bladder outside the body. Symptoms of urethritis are very similar to those of a bladder infection, but usually the urinalysis is clear. Symptoms may include vaginal discharge in women or urethral discharge in men. Even though bladder and kidneys aren't involved, treatment is very similar.

For any of these urinary tract infections, your doctor will probably prescribe antibiotics or other medications. He may also get a culture of your urine to determine specifically what germ is causing the infection so he can prescribe the appropriate antibiotic. Here are some things you can do to aid treatment and to help prevent recurrent infections:

1. Drink at least two quarts of water or other fluids each day while you are being treated.
2. Take your antibiotic each day as directed for the entire prescribed period, even if the symptoms clear in one or two days. Failure to do this could result in some infection remaining without symptoms to warn you. This could result in damage to your kidneys.
3. Most urinary tract infections are caused by organisms that live normally in the rectum and large intestine. Therefore, it's most important for women to wipe with a front-to-back motion after urination and bowel movements so as not to carry these organisms into the urethra (urinary outlet).
4. Avoid bubble baths, feminine hygiene sprays and deodorant soaps when cleaning the area around the urethra. Clear tap water is just as effective. These cause local irritation and subsequent infection.
5. Wear cotton panties. Nylon or other synthetic fabrics allow heat and moisture to accumulate, favoring the growth of bacteria.
6. Sexual intercourse may carry organisms into the female urethra. Therefore, it's sometimes helpful to urinate shortly after having sexual relations and to drink several glasses of water to dilute the urine further.
7. Have vaginal discharges and infections treated promptly. During treatment, check with your doctor if:

1. you've had a urine culture so the doctor can tell you whether you are on the right medicine;
2. you fail to improve within two to three days on prescribed treatment;
3. you develop chills, reoccurrence of fever, or any worsening of symptoms;
4. you are not able to keep down the medicine due to vomiting.

MESSAGE TO CONGRESS: PASS BALANCED BUDGET AMENDMENT

Congress recently proposed to raise the debt limit again—this time to $1.7 trillion. There is talk around Washington that it will have to be raised to $2 trillion by 1989.

You don't have to think back very far to remember when the debt was "only" a trillion dollars. (That was in 1981).

I was looking through some old news clippings recently and found that in 1979, the talk was whether there would be a $14 billion budget surplus or a $30 billion deficit! That same year, the Congressional Budget Office was warning of a $60 billion deficit.

My mail contains a constant stream of letters from NFIB members worried about deficits and the resulting high interest and complaining about the irresponsible spending habits of the Congress. Small-business owners want to know when common sense will force senators and representatives to face fiscal reality: You can't go on spending what you don't have.

One way to bring some discipline to the process is through a constitutional amendment to require a balanced federal budget. A bipartisan group in the House of Representatives is trying to force a vote on such an amendment before the 98th Congress adjourns. It requires that the budget be balanced except in times of emergency. The only other way the budget would be permitted to be in the red would be by vote of three-fifths of the members of each House of Congress, plus a presidential signature. The amendment imposes limits on both spending and taxation.

The problem is that the measure is bottled up in the House Judiciary Committee, and it seems the House leadership doesn't want it to go to the floor for a vote. But 167 House members have signed a discharge petition, which would free the amendment from the Judiciary Committee and bring it to the full House of Representatives for a vote. Fifty-one more signatures are needed—and time is running out.

(During the 97th Congress, the Senate passed a constitutional amendment to balance the budget, but the amendment died due to lack of House action. The Senate Judiciary Committee has not reported an amendment in the 98th Congress but would probably do so if the House appeared willing to the action.)

When Congress returns from the August recess, it will probably be in session for another six weeks. Right now, many members are in their districts campaigning for re-election. It's a safe bet that small-business owners who want a balanced federal budget will be seeking out their representatives to make sure they have signed the discharge petition.

There is one other avenue: a constitutional convention. Thirty-four states must pass resolutions calling for such a convention. Thirty-two have already done so. Two more, California and Montana, may come through before the end of 1984.

Many members of Congress don't want a constitutional convention. They can avoid one if they listen to their constituents and pass the balanced budget amendment in September.

Pass Christian loses to d'Iberville 30-0

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The d'Iberville Warriors capitalized on two quick Pass Christian turnovers to establish an early 16-0 first half lead without registering a first down in a 30-0 win in their season opener Friday night.

The Pirates moved the ball up and down the field throughout the game, yet were unable to move past d'Iberville's 10 yard line after getting there twice.

Alton Wright, in his first game as head mentor of the Pirates offered praise for his team's effort against the 4-A rated Warriors.

Wright said, "Our boys played 40 to 48 minutes, as they had to go both ways and mistakes gave d'Iberville that big 16 point lead. We have a good team and by pulling together we can bounce back."

Pass Christian is rated 3-A and the starters had little backup from the bench throughout the game.

In the statistics department, Pass Christian registered eight first downs before the Warriors could muster one with 3:27 left in the second quarter.

The game opened with d'Iberville kicking-off to the Pirates who appeared to be tight and unable to move the ball. On a fourth and two in a punting situation, the ball was snapped over the punter's head, giving the Warriors possession on the Pirates one yard line.

Jimmy Chapman, Warrior quarterback scored on their first play with a keeper and the PAT made the score 7-0.

d'Iberville scored again on a pass interception and the PAT moved their lead to 14-0.

Joey Rogers, Pass signal caller mixed his plays well and moved the ball for several first downs. The Pirates drove to d'Iberville's 10 yard line only to lose the ball on a fumble.

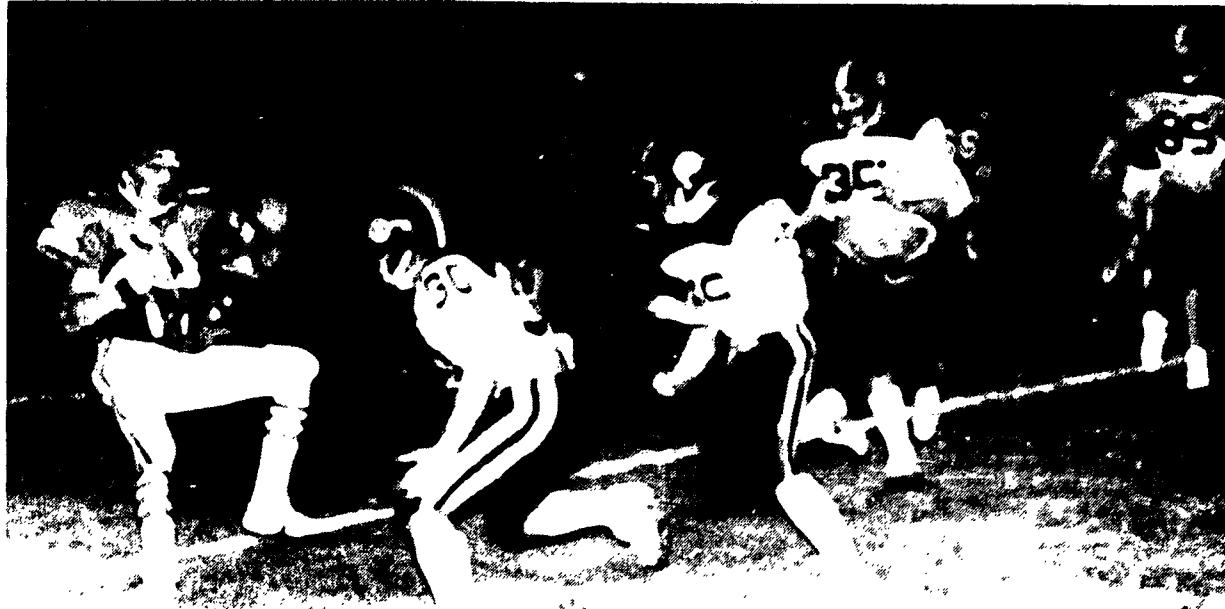

Pass Christian's defense looked good in holding d'Iberville for three plays, forcing a punt.

The Pirates couldn't muster a first down and were forced to punt from their own 37. The snap sailed over the punter's head and was downed in the end zone by Pass Christian for a safety, pushing the Warrior's lead to 16-0.

In first half action, Pass Christian registered eight first downs to d'Iberville's three, yet the Pirates trailed 16-0.

Going both ways, the Pirate defense faltered in the third quarter as the depth of the d'Iberville bench began to wear them down.

The visitors from North Biloxi scored two quick touchdowns on long drives to end the scoring for the night and take a 30-0 lead.

In the fourth quarter Pirate supporters were urging their team on as they moved the ball from their own 35 to d'Iberville's 10 on a series of passes and runs.

An illegal block on the next play moved the ball back to the Warrior 27. Two quick pass completions by Rogers moved the ball back to the 11. The Pirates turned the ball over to d'Iberville after

Rocks kick past Hawks in cliffhanger

By EDGAR PEREZ

Points after the touchdown were by no means 'extra' Friday night at St. Stanislaus Stadium, they were absolutely essential to a 14-12 Rockachaw victory over the Hancock North Central Hawks.

With both teams scoring twice in the Bay St. Louis season opener, the successful place kicking of Rock split end Matt Sportorno provided a slim margin of victory in the only close prep game played on the Gulf Coast Friday night. "One thing's for sure, the people on both sides who came to this game certainly got their money's worth," Hawk head coach Irvin Favre said of the seesaw battle in which the lead changed four times.

Hawk quarterback Melton Lewis interrupted an early, 12-play offensive series by the Rocks in which they drove as deep as the Hawk 10 yard line.

Lewis snagged a Rock quarterback Matt Scardino pass at the HNC 25 to end the drive which included an 18 yard run by SSC back Todd Thriffiley and 15 yard run by fullback Chuck Yarborough, penalty gains of 15 yards and a first down on a pass interference call, and losses of 20 yards for off sides, procedure and clipping infractions.

Following the interception, the Hawks were first and ten at their own 24 to begin their second series in the first quarter.

On the first play Hawk fullback Stanley Jordan took a pitchout from Lewis and embarked on a spectacular 76 yard run for the game's first touchdown, putting the HNC out front 6-0 with three minutes left in the period. In what proved later to be one of the more crucial plays of the game, Hancock's extra point kick fell short.

The Rocks initial score came eight and a-half minutes into the second period, set up by a Todd Thriffiley interception taken in at his own 35.

The speedy junior raced 40 yards before being downed at the Hawk 25.

Hawk Louis Burton stopped the Rocks cold on the next play, but on second down, Scardino found split end David Zanca open near the HNC end zone.

Zanca posted the Rocks first six and Sportorno added the all-important 'extra' point to push the Rocks ahead with only a few minutes left in the half.

The Stanislaus defense held firm, forcing the Hawks to punt after three plays.

The Rocks themselves were held to a punt situation after being held to a fourth down near their own 35.

The Rocks were forced to down the ball at their eight yard line after a high snap from center to the punter.

The Hawks were quick to capitalize on the opportunity. On third down Stanley Jordan plunged over from the three to put HNC ahead 12-7 with eight seconds remaining in the half.

Hoping to regain that 'extra' point lost earlier, the Hawks set to kick but passed to tailback Charles Burton in a two-point conversion try.

Burton was stopped, however, before he could reach the end zone—and thus ended the Hancock scoring for the evening.

THIRD QUARTER

The third quarter opened with a Titanic defensive battle. Following a four-play series, Stanislaus was forced to punt.

Hancock took over at mid-field, but also was forced to punt on fourth down.

SSC had the ball again on their own 17, but found themselves with fourth and 11 again at mid-field.

The Rocks' punt was downed on the Hawk 20 where SSC tackle Kirk Ex-nicious recovered a HNC first-down fumble.

Scardino cranked up again, this time to connect with tight end Arthur Wynne for an 18-yard TD aerial sending the Rocks out front again.

Sportorno pushed the margin up another point with a clean boot through the posts to fix the game score at 14-12 with 4.3 minutes left in the third period.

Hawk tailback Frank Ladner stopped an early fourth quarter Rock drive when he intercepted Scardino in the end zone and raced out 15 yards.

The opponents exchanged the ball four times by punt and twice by mutual fumbles to eat up the clock in the final period.

Recovering the fumbles were Rock Arthur Wynne and Hawk Charles Burton.

But with 2:20 left in the game, Hancock mounted an offensive which brought them to first and ten at the Rock 46 and a field goal possibility with 23 seconds and a time out left.

Hancock North Central's Ninth Grade Hawks whitewashed St. Stanislaus' Junior Rocks 36-0 Thursday in a football season opener on HNC's White Cypress campus.

High scorers for the Hawks were tailback Vincent Cuevas with two touchdowns and a two-point conversion for a 14-point total and fullback Bernard Burton with two touchdowns for 12.

Cuevas picked up eight points in the first quarter with a 20-yard touchdown run followed by reception of a Jeff Moran pass for two on the conversion try.

Cuevas scored six again on a 30 yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. Burton scored in the second quarter on a two yard plunge and again in the third from 25 yards out.

Other Hawk scorers include Larry Beech who successfully kicked for extra points in the second and fourth quarters and Donald Vince who covered 92 yards on a second quarter scoring run. Byron Peterson also snagged a Jeff Moran pass for two points following Burton's third quarter touchdown.

"Anytime you shut somebody out you can be sure everybody on defense is playing well," Hawk Coach Joe Shaw stated.

The coach cited defensive players Casey Hoda, outside linebacker who scored four quarterback sacks, and cornerback Tony Hickman credited with an interception.

The Ninth Grade Hawks will play host to Pearl River Central Junior High this week. Kickoff is slated for 7 p.m. at Hawk Stadium.

But Todd Thriffiley, determined not to let the Hawks spoil his hometown party, picked off a long Lewis pass at the SSC 15, ending the threat, and for all practical purposes, the game.

The hawks intended receiver, who was well covered on the play, was inadvertently tripped, and some Hawk supporters feel officials should have called pass interference at that point.

But the officials didn't see it that way and Stanislaus came away with a juicy two-point victory over the Hawks to start a winning season.

SSC head coach Vernon Powell said he feels the Hawks are a powerful team and will pose a serious threat to any team on this year's schedule.

"We were lucky to catch them at the beginning of the season before they have had a chance to iron out some rough spots," Powell added.

St. Stanislaus hosts the St. John Eagles of Gulfport at 7:30 Friday and Hancock journeys to Carriere to face inter-county rival Pearl River Central.

Injuries plague Tigers, Stone wins game 21-0

By DENA BISNETTE

Injuries turned out to be a problem for the Bay High Tigers before Friday night's game against Stone County even started.

With two key players injured before the season started and a third player hurt early in the game, Bay High lost to Stone County 21-0.

Starting running back Willie Lewis went down with a separated shoulder about halfway through the first quarter and will be out for the season, according to Head Coach Cleveland Williams.

Lewis was reported to be in good condition Saturday at Hancock General Hospital.

Also missing from the game were tackle Craig Breland, running back Stace McRaney and fullback Chester Barlow, the coach said. All three were starters.

McRaney said he expects to be able to play in about two weeks, but Breland is out for the season with a knee injury. Barlow was declared ineligible about three hours before the game, Williams said.

High school players are considered eligible for only four years and Barlow had already played four seasons.

"I got the call telling me Barlow couldn't play at about 3:45 p.m. and had to make some major adjustments just hours before the game," Williams said after the game. "It's hard to talk about what that and the injuries did to our game right now."

"We'll just have to regroup for next week. It looks like we may have to use some of our younger players."

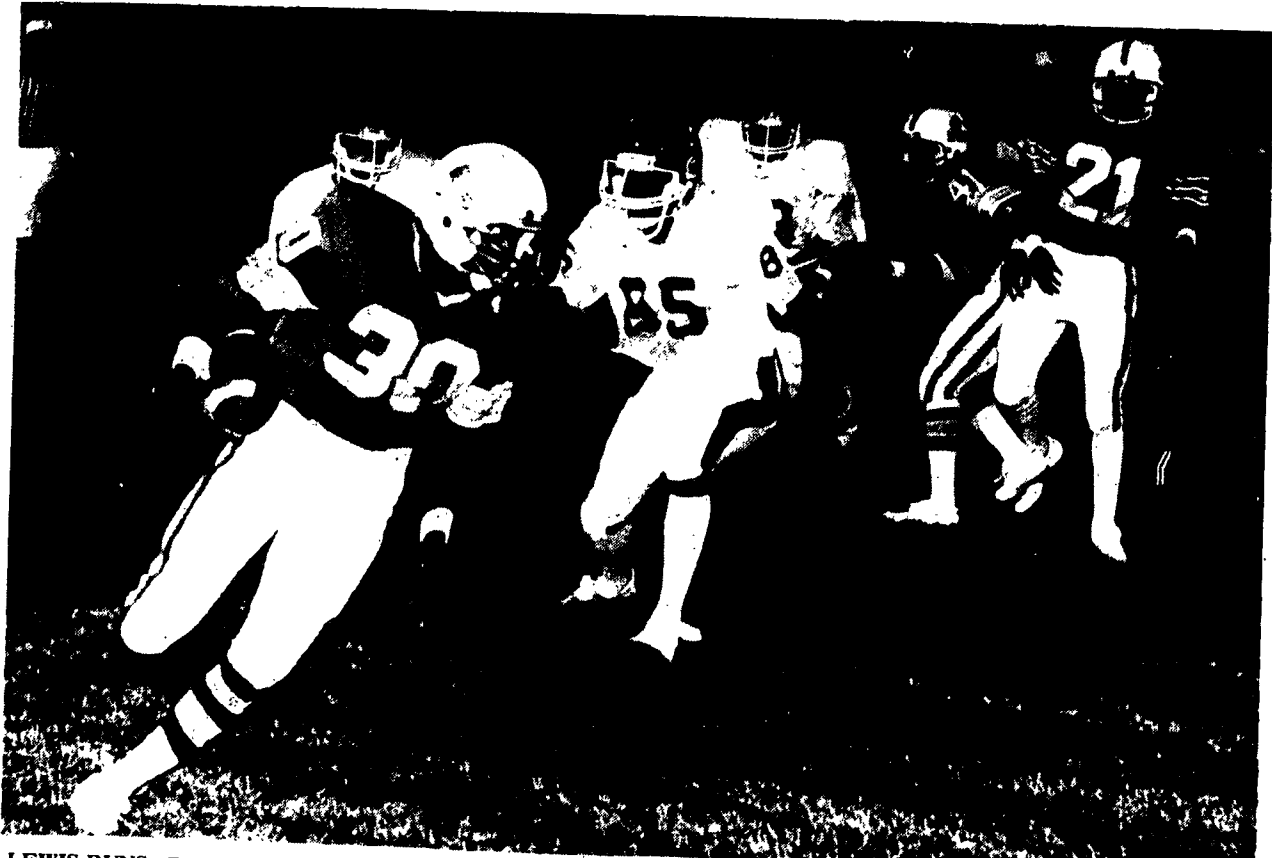

Some of those younger players got some experience playing defense Friday night, when the Tigers held Stone County to a scoreless second half.

Stone's first touchdown came on a pass play in the first quarter and was followed by a good extra point kick, making the score 7-0. Second quarter points, mostly made on running plays, brought the score to 21-0 with 1:41 to go in the half.

In second half action, incomplete passes, penalties and a hard-hitting Bay defense led by Trace McRaney and Jerry Head stopped Stone County.

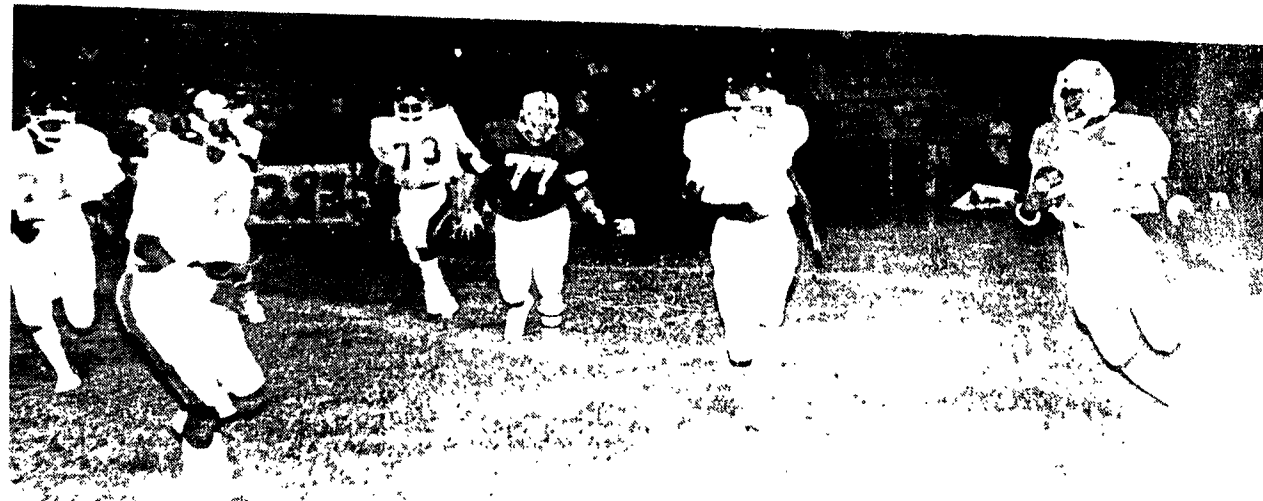

In offensive play, the Tigers completed five out of 18 attempted passes for a total of 28 yards, gained 37 yards rushing and lost only two yards.

Next week, Bay High meets Pass Christian at Tiger stadium.

Also included are Eugene Dillman, Sidney Sandoz and Calvin R. Smith, all Democrats, in Beat Four; and Charles F. Gottschalk and Kire C. Mitchell, both Democrats, in Beat Five.

The candidates for election commission will be certified at the next board of supervisors meeting.

The final deadline for qualifying for the election was 5 p.m. Friday.

Planning.....

sioners said they were opposed to spot zoning.

Following Tuesday's meeting, Ducomb expressed continuing concern about the lack of zoning.

"Everyone should be concerned about it, especially people who live out in the country in rural areas."

"One day you have trees and the next thing you know there's a junkyard next door," he said.

Ducomb noted he has been a county planning commissioner for 15 years.

"And 'zoning' is the dirtiest word that ever comes up."

Also Tuesday, Gene Bennett discussed plans to develop property he owns near Fenton for trailer rental space.

He told the commissioners he is presently developing 24 spaces, but hopes to add another 16 later for a total of 40.

Scaffidi advised Bennett the commission has no jurisdiction over trailer parks as such, that the State Board of Health is the governing agency, but the commissioners thanked Bennett for advising them of his plans.

Ducomb and Commissioner James Rester said they had recently received calls about another trailer park, this one on the west side of Hwy. 603 in the vicinity of the Kiln Supermarket.

Both men said the callers asked if there are restrictions on trailer parks.

"I said we have no jurisdiction," Rester said.

"I told the callers there was nothing we could do without zoning," Ducomb reported.

In his report on issuance of permits, County Building Inspector Donn Murray reported that 23 permits were issued in August, 1984 for a total of $1,055 in fees, compared to 41 permits for $1,198 for August, 1983.

MR. AND MRS. IVAN JOSEPH COBB

Cobb—Taylor

DONALD GINN AND ROSE MARIE BEAUGEZ

Briarwood Baptist Church in Meridian, Miss. was the setting for the August 25 marriage of Laura Marie Taylor of Meridian and Ivan Joseph Cobb of Bay St. Louis. Rev. Thomas Wood officiated at the double ring evening ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Taylor of Meridian. The groom is the son of Ms. Glenda Battaglia of Bay St. Louis.

Nuptial music was presented by vocalist Amy Jackson, organist Sue Ellen Sanders and pianist Delores Avara, all of Meridian.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose an original gown of white matte taffeta featuring a Queen Anne neckline accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls and wattle sleeves closed tightly at the wrists. The full skirt fell from a fitted waistline and extended to a cathedral train trimmed in matching lace. A Juliet caplet adorned with Alencon lace and seed pearls held a waltz length double tiered veil of silk illusion with lace and pearl appliques.

She carried a cascade of phalenopsis orchids, white bridal roses and stephanotis with gypsophylla.

Jennifer Pitts of Jackson, Miss. was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Rhonda Miller of Meridian; Carole Mosch, Pat Wroldstad and Kim Herrington, all of Gulfport; Gina Benigno of Laurel, Miss. and Jeanine Battaglia of Bay St. Louis, sister of the groom.

The attendants were attired in formal gowns of pale rose taffeta, each with rounded neckline, V-d back and full skirt with a wide cummerbund and ruffle at the back. They carried arm bouquets of red roses and springer fern.

Angie Maxey of Meridian, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and flower girls were Shannon Spencer of Brandon, Miss., cousin of the bride; and JoAnn Battaglia of Bay St. Louis, niece of the groom.

Chuck Benigno of Waveland was best man.

Groomsmen were Eddie Atherton and Bryan Caldwell of Gulfport; Jay Coon of Pascagoula; Brett Beckman of Starkville and Scott Evans of Bay St. Louis.

Ushers were Jim Taylor III of Meridian, brother of the bride and Charlie Battaglia of Bay St. Louis, brother of the groom.

Ring bearer was Matt Maxey of Meridian, nephew of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Briarwood Country Club. Assisting were Kristi Miller, Lisa Blalock, Jennifer Amara and Debbi Maxey, all of Meridian.

On return from a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the couple will reside in Meridian.

Legion Auxiliary planning vets party

The regular monthly meeting of American Legion Auxiliary Clement R. Bontemps Unit 139 was held last Monday.

Lena Cuevas the Veterans Party chairman announced that the semi-annual veterans party would be held at the Legion Home on Tuesday, Sept. 25 beginning at 1 p.m.

She said that all veterans staying in private homes in Hancock County will be invited to attend as well as a group that will be brought over from the Gulfport VA Hospital.

Members will furnish refreshments. The auxiliary's annual Harvest Ball will be held on Friday, Oct. 28 at the Legion Home.

The Dubes Show Band will play again this year.

A large ceramic magnolia will be given away at the dance.

Mrs. Roseann Thompson is dance chairman. Tickets will be available at the next meeting.

The Junior Auxiliary will hold an "After the Game Dance" on Friday, Sept. 7 at the Legion Home on Green Meadow Road.

The tickets are $3 each and will be available at the door.

Music will be by Fantasy Productions.

Mattie North, rehabilitation chairman, reported she has over 100 gifts for veterans gift shop.

Each member is taxed two gifts. The gift shop allows the patients in the Gulfport and Biloxi hospitals to send gifts home to their loved ones for Christmas.

Ms. North has also been given permission to prepare 50 bags of comfort items for the men who are admitted to the Gulfport VA Hospital.

Inez Boule is the unit membership chairman and she is now collecting dues for 1982.

Anyone wishing to pay may either contact Boule or mail the money to P.O. Box 382, Bay St. Louis, Ms. 39520.

The next regular meeting will be Monday, Sept. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Legion Home. The next regular meeting of the Junior Auxiliary will be Thursday, Sept. 24 at the Legion Home.

Chicken is ideal food for outdoor barbecues

The backyard barbecue is always popular at this time of year, but with inflation and energy shortages keeping more people close to home the grill might well become the center of this summer's activities.

Cooking chicken outdoors can mean real savings. Chicken halves, quarters, drumsticks or thighs are ideal for barbecuing on a grill.

Like all chicken, drumsticks and thighs are rich in protein but low in calories and in fat content. The dark meat is especially moist and is preferred by many chicken lovers.

Chicken is compatible with most other foods and adapts well to a variety of seasonings so you can create many pleasing combinations when you cook thighs and drumsticks outdoors.

Barbecuing chicken should be a leisurely process.

The aroma of chicken cooking on the grill is tantalizing and will whet the appetite, so start the fire well in advance of serving to allow time for proper cooking. Once the chicken starts to cook, the chef should remain nearby to turn and baste it.

Allow the charcoal to heat for 30 minutes, then spread the coals before beginning to cook. The rack should be six to eight inches from the heat.

Place the chicken on the grill skin side up and turn every three to five minutes for even cooking. It takes about an hour to cook chicken on the grill, depending on size and thickness of the pieces.

Try Poulet Mignon, a simple dish that will appeal even to chicken lovers who usually eat only white meat.

Poulet Mignon

8 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, boned
8 slices (about 2" x 3") mozzarella cheese
8 strips thick bacon
1 t. salt
1/4 t. pepper

On flat surface, place boned chicken thigh, skin-side down. Place cheese slice inside thigh, gently wrapping thigh around cheese. Check to be sure cheese is tightly enclosed. Secure with food pick. Attach one end of bacon strip to food pick and wrap remainder of bacon around thigh several times. Secure with six inch wood or metal skewers, penetrating through entire mignon. Repeat for all thighs.

Place thighs on grill, skin side up, six to eight inches from heat. Turn every three to five minutes for even cooking. Grill for about 40 to 45 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Remove chicken from grill, add salt and pepper. Makes four servings.

To bone chicken, place thigh on cutting board, skin-side down, and cut along thin side joint to joint. Holding one end of bone, cut meat from one joint; then pull or scrape meat from bone. Cut meat from opposite joint.

Barbecued chicken without sauce is like bread without butter. Barbecue sauce is basting material. Here is a place to use your favorite sauce, one that appeals to your taste. The kind of sauce used gives the barbecued chicken its 'personality.'

The halves may be dipped into the hot basting material or they may be put over fire and the sauce brushed on. No matter which method you use, the halves should be brushed with the sauce every five to 10 minutes, just before you turn them over.

You may want a simple barbecue sauce including water, vinegar, butter and salt. All sauces should be kept hot during the basting. The sauce can be heated over the same fire you are barbecuing with.

Here is a sauce that people in Mississippi use frequently. It is very easy to make. The amount given is for eight to 10 chicken halves.

Mississippi Barbecue Sauce

1 cup cooking oil
1 pint cider vinegar
4 T. salt
1 t. red pepper
1 t. Tabasco sauce
Add garlic as you like
You may vary the recipe to suit individual taste.

Try salting the chicken one to two hours before barbecuing. After salting, place chicken in the refrigerator. If you salt before barbecuing, do not add salt to the barbecue sauce.

Place the halved broilers on the grill, skin side up or skin side down. With either method, the results will be the same.

The chicken should be basted often. It is not necessary to baste the halved broilers for the first 15 to 20 minutes but as the chickens begin to cook, start applying the sauce. The last 30 minutes of the cooking is the most important, and the sauce should be applied every five to 10 minutes.

In turning the chicken never use a fork to pierce the halves as this will let the juices escape and the chickens will dry out. Tongs and forceps are ideal for turning the chicken.

Cook the chickens until they are well done, which usually takes 1 to 1 1/2 hours depending on the size of the chickens and the temperature of the fire. When the chickens are done, the drumstick will twist out readily.

Keep the chickens hot until served.

Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

On new insurance services—

As forecasted by the Kiplinger Washington Letter, insurance service coming during the 80's will be checkwriting on cash values, switching policies without penalties, and more plans tied to investments. Insurers will adapt to changes in the financial market by getting into financial counseling, commercial loans, money funds, plus trust services and savings accounts.

On cost of operating a car—

The cost of driving a large 1984 car the first year is estimated to be about 38 cents per mile.

On U.S. Savings Bonds—

At present, the market rate for bonds is 9.9 percent. The rate changes every six months. A bond must be held at least five years to qualify for the full rate.

On IRA accounts—

Contributing to your IRA now instead of waiting until the filing deadline for 1984 will give you the benefits of extra compounding.

On repossessions—

A new rule relating to repossessions has been enacted by the Federal Trade Commission. Under the rule, a creditor can repossess only those items for which the debt was made and the things that were used for collateral to get a loan.

This rule will affect finance companies but does not apply to banks and savings and loan associations. Also, the rule forbids contracts that permit a loan company to have payments deducted from the debtor's salaries without first informing them. For the co-signer, a written statement is required explaining the liabilities for which he or she is responsible.

Former pro halfback follows in mother's footsteps as D.J.

A former San Francisco Forty-Niners halfback who grew up in a Picayune radio station is the new voice of gospel music on WXGR in Bay St. Louis.

Tommy (Sonny) Manning, a

TOMMY (SONNY) MANNING

Picayune native whose mother, Alice Manning, has been an on-the-air radio personality there for many years, developed an early interest in broadcasting from accompanying his mother to work.

Manning comes to Bay St. Louis from Gulfport where he has worked for the past 2.5 years as gospel disc jockey and assistant gospel coordinator for WTAM-AM radio.

He can be heard here Sundays from 10 a.m. to noon on WXGR's 1190 kz where he is playing a country-contemporary-traditional combination of gospel music.

"Ira (Ira Hatchett, WXGR owner) wanted to broaden his gospel format, and fortunately for me, he feels my broadcast personality is just right for the type of programming he desires," Manning said.

He noted the station plans to include community projects in its gospel music format.

"We hope to develop a 'Pastor of the Week' award as well as a high school king and queen crowning," Manning pointed out.

"Overall, we plan to involve local churches, youth and merchants in our gospel operations," Manning explained.

The station's new DJ will also be involved in advertising sales, Hatchett said.

In addition to playing records, Manning also sings and plays piano and organ.

Following his football-playing days at Carver High in Picayune and Jackson State University in Jackson, Manning played for the 49ers in 1975 and 1976.

Currently a Gulfport resident, Manning said he lived in Bay St. Louis for about a year in 1972.

He credits Percy (Yogi) McKay of Bay St. Louis with influencing his decision to return to this area.

Senior Citizen's Happenings

By Eve McDonald

World's Fair

We all really enjoyed Hancock County Day at the fair and were so proud of Lucille Luke, one of our teachers, being part of the special event.

We had about 60 seniors adding to the already large crowd the chamber and others brought. I sure was proud of Tish Haas, but we brought her grandfather Norton, and we all know "it runs in the family."

Our next trip to the fair will be September 26. If you are interested in going with us, call Rosine Jushaway at 467-9292.

Birthday Party

Princess Fahey presented a birthday card-gift to those whose birthdays were celebrated in July and August. Peoples Federal Savings & Loan provided the beautiful birthday cake and a good time was had by all.

We are very grateful to our American Legion posts in the Bay and Waveland for their cash donation for prizes. The Eatery and Danny's Fried Chicken also provide prize dinners each month. Thanks!

Bazaar

Don't forget our Fall Bazaar on Nov. 14. We will be selling things made by the seniors for the center, and displaying your work that you want to keep, but are willing to show.

The classes will have tables, but we will have individual sales tables. If you want to sell some of your homemade crafts, please bring a table.

We will only have homemade items and plants at our Bazaar. Please do not bring anything else.

Christmas Party

Keep Dec. 20 open for our Annual Christmas Party at the Bay St. Louis American Legion Hall. We will be trying to earn money to provide a super party for you.

The quilting class is almost finished with their beautiful quilt that they provide for a raffle to earn money for the party. Mrs. LeRoy and her laides are really a super bunch to do this for us. Thanks! Thanks! Thanks!

Coming Events

We are continuing our trips to NASA for tours and lunch. If you are interested, call Rosine.

Sept. 12 we will have free hearing tests at the center.

Our Gulfport office has purchased a machine that will enable us to provide all who are signed up with us a free senior citizen card with your picture on it. We will be taking the pictures and making the cards in just about one week.

New Weekly Events

The Child Development Center has been bringing a class of their children over to the center to join in singing with the Bible Class on Thursdays at 9 a.m.

Tee Oliver is making Santas out of Reader's Digest books on Friday mornings.

We have openings in our latch hook, sewing, calligraphy, drawing, and doll classes also.

Call Jushaway for more information at 467-9292.

CHURCH ON NATIONAL REGISTER—The Main Street United Methodist Church's building in Bay St. Louis has been recognized by the National Register of Historic Places. A plaque is held by Curtis Moffat, left, pastor, that was presented to the church by Peggy Gibbens, president of the Hancock County Historical Society. The church's building was constructed in 1897. Main Street United Methodist will celebrate the Bicentennial of Methodism in America with a special service on Sunday, Oct. 28, at 11 a.m. Rev. Bernard Walton, former pastor, is the scheduled preacher. Mrs. Gibbens said this was the first commercial building in Bay St. Louis recognized by the National Register Historic Places. ETV Brief

STATE AUTHORS

Eight Mississippi writers talk about their work on a new Mississippi ETV-produced series, "PostScripts," at 8 a.m., Tuesday, beginning Sept. 11.

The series, designed for in-school use in eleventh-grade American literature classes, features Shelby Foote, Eudora Welty, Barry Hannah, Margaret Walker, Ellen Douglas, Elizabeth Spencer, Ellen Gilchrist and Willie Morris, each talking about his or her inspirations, influences, experiences, accomplishments and ambitions.

They also discuss Mississippi's wealth of artists, especially writers, and give their views on why the state has more than its fair share of acclaimed authors, and they give their views on why Mississippians write. Even though all eight authors have their Mississippi heritage in common, they each demonstrate unique views of their home state in their writing.

Mississippi schools usually offer American literature at the eleventh-grade level. The course usually is a survey, presenting a comprehensive history of literature from the days of settlement through modern times.

Often included in the accompanying textbooks is a small sampling of a few Mississippi writers, most notably William Faulkner, Richard Wright, Eudora Welty, Margaret Walker and Tennessee Williams, but rarely, if ever, in-depth coverage of other contemporary Mississippi authors. "PostScripts" is designed to supplement American literature courses with insight into other well-known Mississippi authors who may not be covered in current state-adopted textbooks.

Edward Cohen was producer of the series; Clarence Hooker, director; and Linda Cooper, instructional developer.

Story Hour titles listed

Pre-school children are invited to attend Story Hour every Thursday at 10:30 a.m. at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis.

Story Hour is a program utilizing picture books, finger plays, films and activities geared to children ages three to six.

"Bertie and The Bear" by Pamela Allen will be read first.

"Two Little Monkeys," a finger play, will be performed between stories.

"Talk Along - Help Jumbo Escape" by Dick Punnett is the second story.

"Monkey See, Monkey Do," a physical activity, will be presented next.

"One Hunter," a counting book by Pat Hutchins, will also be read. The program will conclude with the film "Daisy," according to Becky Mitchum Keefer, children's librarian.

Canning products company announces competition for Hancock County Fair

Home canners can reap more than good food from their efforts this summer by entering Bernardin's home canning competition at the Hancock County Fair, Oct. 22-26.

"Home canners can make their hard work pay off and gain special recognition in the process by entering this competition," says Alan Alsop, sales manager for Bernardin brand canning products.

Bernardin holds competitions in four open class divisions. This year, for the first time, the company is offering a special competition for 4-H or junior class members.

Entries may be submitted in any of four divisions—fruits, vegetables, jams and jellies, and pickles and relishes. The entries must be sealed with Bernardin home canning lids.

For more information and entry forms contact Darlene Underwood, county extension home economist, at 467-5456.

In the open class competition, the first place winner in each division will receive $5, Bernardin's Home Canning Guide and a certificate of excellence.

Second prize in each division wins $3, a home canning guide and a certificate of excellence.

A grand prize winner, chosen from entries in all divisions, earns $10, a home canning guide and a certificate of excellence.

Winners in the 4-H competition will take home $5, a home canning guide and a certificate of excellence.

Bernardin brand canning products are available at all Dollar General Stores as well as most local grocery and retail outlets.

Bernardin brand lids and screw tops are manufactured by the Closure Division of the National Can Corporation in the United States and Canada. The firm's Evansville, Ind., facility has more than 200,000 square feet of manufacturing, research and office space.

In 1981, the home canning company manufactured the first commercial metal closures sold in the United States.

Bernardin brand products have been produced for home canning since 1935.

Gulf Coast symphony opens 22nd season

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra will open its 22nd season Saturday, Sept. 22 at 8 p.m. in the Biloxi High School Auditorium.

The orchestra will be under the direction of James Shannon, its conductor and musical director.

Guest artist of the evening will be Nancy Lynn Rice, pianist, who will play the Prokofiev Second Piano Concerto in G minor.

Only 29 years old, Rice already has the experience of a veteran soloist. Her bachelor of arts degree came from Peabody, her master's from Julliard and her doctorate in piano performance from the University of Southern California.

She has worked intimately with piano teacher Beveridge Webster and presently is his teaching associate. A performance last year at the Queen Elizabeth competition elicited rave reviews from the adjudicators.

The concerto Rice will perform with the orchestra is Prokofiev's most difficult piano concerto. The orchestral part is also of unusual difficulty and will test the mettle of the Gulf Coast Orchestra's musicians.

The orchestra will open the concert with the prelude to Wagner's opera "Meistersinger," followed by the piano concerto with Rice.

After intermission, the orchestra will return with one of the great works in orchestral literature—Debussy's "La Mer." No other composer has ever managed to conjure up images of the motion and beauty of the endless sea as Debussy did in this work. Fiendishly difficult, it tests each and every section of the orchestra.

Following "La Mer" the orchestra will conclude the concert with "Over the Hills and Far Away" by Delius.

Tickets to the concert will be available at the door.

Subscription memberships at substantial savings can be obtained by writing the Symphony Orchestra at P.O. Box 4303, Biloxi, 39531 or by calling 864-5054.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, September 17, 1984 marks the one hundred ninety-seventh anniversary of the drafting of the Constitution of the United States of America by the Constitutional Convention; and

WHEREAS, to accord official recognition to this memorable anniversary, and to the patriotic exercise that will form a noteworthy feature of the occasion seems fitting and proper; and

WHEREAS, Public Law Number 195 guarantees the issuing of a proclamation each year by the President of the United States of America designating September 17 through the 23 as Constitution Week, be it therefore resolved

THAT, We, Larry J. Bennett, mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis and John Longo Jr., mayor of the City of Waveland, by virtue of the authority vested in us as mayors do hereby proclaim the week of September 17-23 as CONSTITUTION WEEK in the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and throughout Hancock County, and urge all of our citizens to pay special attention during that week to our Federal Constitution and the advantages of American citizenship.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF we have set our hands and caused the seals of our twin cities to be affixed this the 5th day of September, 1984

Hospital administrators designated as Fellows

Timothy F. Crowley, president of Lucius Olen Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune, and Arthur C. Kelly, director of Oktibbeha County Hospital in Starkville, have achieved the prestigious designation of Fellow in the American College of Hospital Administrators.

A fellowship is the highest level of professional achievement in the College. To achieve fellowship ranking, persons must demonstrate their education, experience and leadership in the health care field over a period of several years. As a special project, they must complete a series of case reports or a thesis on a subject related to health care management.

Crowley and Kelly join only 23 other Mississippi hospital executives so designated.

The first American to win a Nobel Prize was Albert Michelson, renowned physicist, in 1907.

Hancock-Harrison Legal Secretaries to host state association board meet

The August meeting of the Harrison-Hancock Counties Legal Secretaries Association was held at the Western Sizzlin' Steakhouse, Gulfport.

President Billie Ruddick opened the meeting by greeting the following guests: Jamie Roddey of Laurel, executive secretary of the state association; Sarah Brannon of Laurel, treasurer of the state association; Myra Kimbrough, employed by the U.S. Navy; Jan Hollenbeck, employed by Attorney Gerald Emil; Theresa Lumpkin, employed by Attorney Thomas D. Berry Jr.; Lisa Cooper and Paige Henagan, employed by Dukes, Dukes & Keating; and Donna Drake, employed by Bryant, Stennis & Colingo.

Jamie Roddey, presented a program on the history of the Mississippi Association of Legal Secretaries; and Gini Myers joined in the program by informing the members of the purposes, benefits, programs and services available through the national association.

The following new members were initiated by Ruddick, assisted by Patsy Bishop: Carolyn Varnado, employed by her husband, Attorney Mager A. Varnado Jr.; Jennifer Underwood, freelance court reporter; Barbara Corner, employed by Attorney Robert W. Smith; and Joyce Ziebold, employed by Attorney Toxey Hall Smith Jr.

Legal education report was presented by Patsy Bishop on law office accounting and Gini Myers gave instructions on voting.

Mississippi Association of Legal Secretaries will hold its fall board meeting at the Holiday Inn Beachfront, Gulfport, on Sept. 15 and 16, hosted by Harrison-Hancock.

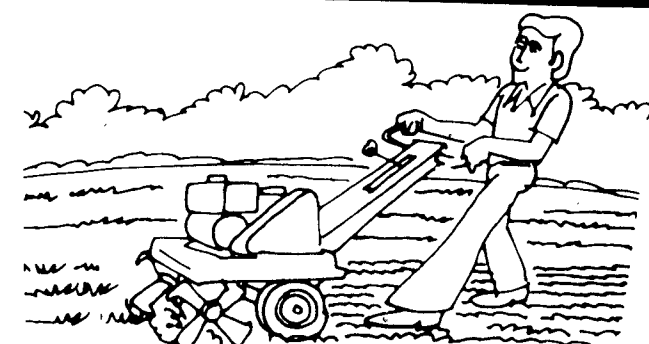

Carolyn Varnado, chairman of the NALS Basic course offered each year by the chapter, will begin classes on Sept. 11 at the Gulfport Fire Station. There are openings for only 35 applicants, first come, first serve.

Sue Huffman was elected as alternate governor for the MALS board meeting, in the event that Governor Ilyne Stewart is unable to attend.

Legal Directories will be offered for sale by the chapter and should be available at the October meeting.

Linda Penrose, immediate past president of the chapter, displayed to the members the two second-place ribbons won by the chapter at the State Convention for the news bulletin and history book; the ribbon for the news bulletin was presented to Ruddick for her history book.

The next meeting of the chapter will be at 6:30 p.m. at the Western Sizzlin' Steakhouse, Gulfport on Sept. 13.

ETV Brief

Arab Wealth

"The Oil Kingdoms," the three-part series documenting how the ancient Arab kingdoms emerged into the wealthiest countries per capita in the world, will be rebroadcast at 6 p.m. Sundays, beginning Sept. 9, on Mississippi ETV. The series was first seen on ETV last fall.

The series was filmed on location in each of the five Persian Gulf states. These little-known but now extremely important and strategically located countries—Kuwait, Qatar, Bahrain, United Arab Emirates and Oman—have found themselves transformed from poor isolated areas into key players in the world's oil and money markets.

"The Oil Kingdoms" covers the history of these states, the realities of their society today and the role they play within the world economic and political structure.

Casino Bingo is available at 46 National Supermarkets located in Southern Louisiana, Southern Mississippi and Mobile, Alabama. Game is scheduled to begin September 2, 1984 and end December 1, 1984. However, it officially ends upon distribution of all game tickets. When the total number of approved winners of any of the game prizes (as set forth in the odds chart) is achieved, then that specific prize category will be terminated without further notice. All prizes must be claimed within 14 days of termination as announced in our advertisements or they will be forfeited. This promotion may be repeated.

These odds are in effect for 30 days after start. Updated odds will be posted in all participating stores and in weekly advertising thereafter.
